Manitou Conference Candidacy Pathways Handbook

A New Look at Accompanying those Exploring and Preparing for Order of Ministry

Candidacy Pathway:

What is the pilot?

In the spring of 2011, an invitation from National Office went out to all the Conferences, asking for help with the Candidacy Pathway Pilot Project that would be testing a new way of doing the Presbytery and Conference work with Education and Students. The goal of the project is to streamline the process for students in the Commissioned and Ordained streams of ministry. Streamlining includes moving from as many as four Presbytery/Conference interview teams to one, reducing the paperwork, establishing psychological and vocational testing as needed, and creating consistent and on-going support for students throughout the process. The process for Designated Lay Ministers remains at the Presbytery Level, except for initial readiness interviews which would be done by the new created "Candidacy Assessment Team". (note that as of GC42 August 2015, the DLM requirements may be shifted and included in Candidacy Pathways). The Pilot Project was planned to run for five years.

What is the Candidacy Pathway?

This is a new way of dealing with students in the ordered streams of ministry (diaconal and ordained). It is an exploration of how to make the process more flexible, adaptable and exploratory for those discerning and preparing for ordered ministry, while also providing support and accountability of the wider church.

Why are we doing this?

In the context of a changing church, it is important to find ways of preparing and equipping people for ordered ministry that takes into account the realities both the needs of the church and people's lives.

Currently, The United Church needs more ministry personnel, particularly in contexts like Manitou Conference. It is expected that this new process will encourage people to try theological education and consider a ministry vocation without some of the former process requirements that tended to lengthen the timeline.

The purpose of the Candidacy pathway is to streamline the processes towards Candidacy. We have been chosen as one of three test Conferences to try out the program for a five year trial. The other two test Conferences are BC and Bay of Quinte. There are four overall goals:

- To eliminate the front end barriers that may stop people from pursuing a vocation. To that end, applicants no longer need to be members of The United Church to begin the process or to do discernment.
- To streamline the work and cut out the duplication. We note this in particular in the elimination of multiple forms and in the groups doing interviewing. In the old process, three groups would interview: Conference Interview Board, Education and Students, and MPESI. With the Candidacy Pathway, the interview process will be done by the Conference Assessment Team and the team will interview throughout a candidate's journey.
- To strengthen the support offered by E and S committees.
- To be able to seek outside professional evaluation of an applicant early on in the process. We will be sending applicants to Elliot and Clark in Toronto. This testing will be paid by General Council while we are in the pilot program.

Candidacy Pathways therefore changes some of the former requirements

- ❖ Interested people will no longer be required to be members of The United Church of Canada for 24 months. They do not need to be members at this preliminary inquiry stage.
- ❖ There is no longer a requirement for a year-long discernment process.
- ❖ This process will reinstate psychological testing, and train people in honest, helpful evaluation and interview techniques.

What is the relationship between DLM (Designated Lay Ministers) and Candidacy Pathways?

The process will not change for Designated Lay Ministers, as they serve in Presbytery accountable appointments. (It is expected that this may change with proposals going to GC42 August 2015).

What is the process?

Hearing a Call to Ministry?

- ❖ Begin with a conversation about your sense of call to ministry with someone in your home congregation, often this will be the minister serving the church, or a respected leader in the faith community. He/she should be able to tell you about the Education & Students Committee in your presbytery. It is the presbytery that has the responsibility of putting the first steps of your exploration of ministry in motion.
- ❖ The Presbytery Education & Student's committee will create a Circle of Accompaniment that will walk with you through the process. This Circle will be made up of Education & Student's committee members and people from your home congregation. The role of the Circle is to support and care for you, now known as the applicant, throughout the process. The Circle has no evaluative role in your process. They are a support group.
- ❖ The Circle will help you, the applicant, prepare for their first Candidacy Assessment Team meeting. It is expected that this will take no more than two or three months.
- ❖ During this initial stage, you will be asked to fill out an information form and obtain, at your own expense, a current Level 2, Vulnerable Sector Police Records Check. The Police Records Check will be viewed by two members of the Candidacy Assessment Team.
- ❖ The Manitou Conference Personnel Minister will set up the Candidacy Assessment Team (CAT) interview, when there is indication through the completion of forms that you are ready.
- ❖ At the initial interview, the CAT will be looking for suitability and promise. If they see that the applicant possesses these qualities, the applicant will be referred for psychological and vocational testing.
- ❖ The psychological report is forwarded to the CAT. The team then reviews the report and meets again with you, the applicant. At this point, there are three options that could be presented to you: 1. you could be made a candidate for ministry; 2. you could be referred for other work and told to come back to CAT, or 3. you could be encouraged to pursue other forms of ministry involvement.

- ❖ CAT will inform the Presbytery when an applicant is to become a candidate. A motion is made at Presbytery.

When does a candidate begin their schooling?

There are more than one pathway to earning the educational requirements for ordered ministry. Those seeking ordination will generally work towards a Master of Divinity. The M.Div. is a three year full time program, though many students will take part time studies and lengthen the time to complete the academic degree. The Atlantic School of Theology offers a distance program that combines academic study with serving a pastoral charge. This distance program is a five year pathway to completing the degree.

Those preparing for diaconal ministry will take their course through the Centre for Christian Studies.

4-year Diploma in Diaconal Ministries: Studies in Transformation and Action is an intensive community-based program which enables students to remain in their resident location while completing the requirements for diaconal or lay ministry.

To earn a Diploma in Diaconal Ministries you will need to complete the following:

- The 2-week Leadership Development Module (pre-requisite)
- 3 Theme Years
 - Pastoral Care
 - Social Ministry
 - Educational Ministry
- 8 External Courses through other theological schools or universities
- The Integrating Year, including a Global Perspectives Experience

For the ordination stream where the academic degree is to be completed:

- the candidate will receive their Master of Divinity degree and testamur.
- The candidate will be interviewed by the CAT, in order to assess their readiness to begin a student appointment.
- The candidate will work in a pastoral charge, half to full time, for two years as a Student Supply.
- The Student Supply minister will meet with an Educational Supervisor. A pastoral charge supervisor will be appointed to attend Board/Council meetings with the Student Supply minister. The Student Supply will meet with a peer learning group for two years.
- At the end of the two year appointment, the Student Supply minister will meet with the CAT, and assessed for ordination.

For the ordination stream where the academic degree is interwoven with practice of ministry (AST Summer Distance Program)

- The candidate will be interviewed by the CAT, in order to assess their readiness to begin a student appointment.
- The candidate will be appointed as student supply to a pastoral charge that has been approved as a learning site, the appointment is generally half time while enrolled in the "in ministry" program
- The Student Supply minister will meet with an Educational Supervisor. A pastoral charge supervisor will be appointed to attend Board/Council meetings with the Student Supply minister. The Student Supply will also have a Lay Learning Supervision Team .
- In the final year of the program the Student Supply minister will meet with the CAT, and be assessed for ordination. CAT will take the recommendation to MPESI for action? (does it have to go back to their presbytery??)
- Once recommended for ordination, the student supply is free to seek their own provisional call/appointment or negotiate a call to continue in their Student Supply appointment as ordained ministry personnel.

For the diaconal stream, the candidate will study for four years at the Centre for Christian Studies, and have annual interviews with CAT. In the final year of their schooling, they will be assessed for commissioning by CAT.

Initial Assessment Interview

Purpose of Interview:

1st: Identify Promise and Suitability

- Person:
 - Has a clear sense of call to ministry.
 - Possesses basic gifts, skills, and character traits of minister.
 - Shows some ability in articulating and demonstrating gifts and skills.
 - Has potential for further learning, both academically and experientially.
- Role of CAT
 - Help person clarify specific nature of call.
 - Provide vocational assessment tools as needed.
 - Select appropriate candidates for various forms of ministry.
 - Support and encourage candidates.

Options at First Stage:

1. See suitability and promise. The person will be sent to Elliot and Clark in Toronto for assessment. When the report is made available from Elliot and Clarke, the Conference Assessment Team will meet with the applicant again to explore the report, and have a further in-depth interview. The applicant may be made a candidate at this time.
2. Can say “We see promise, but you need to do X and come back in a while.”
3. We could ask the applicant to meet with their Circle of Accompaniment for a year to clarify their goals, or work at articulating their beliefs.
4. Say no. For those who do not demonstrate promise or suitability, the challenge is to support them. What other ministry might you do? Affirm their life vocations. How could you live out your current ministry? How can we help you? What will it mean when you go back to your home congregation? Would you like us to call your minister? Give applicants suggestions for the future.

Interview Norms, Manitou Conference Assessment Team

Before an interview:

Team Lead:

One member of the Conference Assessment Team (CAT) will be designated as team lead. This person will contact the applicant's Circle of Accountability (Presbytery Education and Students' Committee), to see if there are any questions/concerns the Circle would like included in the interview.

The team lead will facilitate the interview by:

- welcoming the applicant/candidate,
- offering introductions,
- acting as time keeper,
- reviewing the format/ "our map for the day",
- reminding the applicant/candidate that committee members may be writing notes throughout the interview,
- reminding the applicant/candidate that the role of the CAT is to seek dialogue. The role of the Conference Assessment Team is to challenge, evaluate and learn about the applicant/candidate.
- ending the interview,
- co-ordinating the feedback session,
- presenting the feedback to the applicant/candidate

Preparation:

CAT members will come prepared for the interview, having read the material before the meeting.

CAT members will meet before each interview for planning the time with the applicant/candidate.

Interview norms will be sent to all applicants/candidates in advance of their meeting.

Possible questions will be sent to all applicants/candidates before the meeting.

Norms:

Confidentiality will be honoured.

A minimum of three members are needed for each interview.

When an Interim Minister or a Designated Lay Minister is to be interviewed, the committee will seek an outside IM or DLM, if a CAT member with these specific qualifications is not available.

During the interview:

Setting:

The interview will take place in a comfortable space. Water, tissues, and a plant will be present.

Space will be set aside for the applicant/candidate to wait before the interview and during deliberations.

Timing:

Typically, interviews last two hours. The applicant/candidate will meet with the CAT for approximately 90 minutes, at which point, the applicant/candidate will be asked to leave. Assessments can take about 30 minutes. The applicant/candidate and their accompanist will be asked back into the room, as the final decision is conveyed.

In some cases, the applicant/candidate may be called back in to help clarify additional questions posed by team members.

The Accompanist:

An accompanist, chosen by the applicant/candidate can be present.

The accompanist is a person of trust. This person might be someone from the Circle of Accompaniment or a colleague. The accompanist will not be a member of the applicant/candidate's family.

The accompanist acts as a silent observer of the interview.

When the interview with the applicant/candidate is completed, the accompanist will be asked to stay with the CAT for a few moments. The accompanist will be asked if the interview was fair and if the team were able to see the real person. The accompanist will be excused and can wait with the applicant/candidate until a decision is reached by the CAT.

Chaplain:

The Conference Personnel Minister will act as the chaplain for the interview.

The chaplain will meet with the applicant/candidate before the interview.

The chaplain will offer a brief time of worship once the group has gathered.

The chaplain will sit in the circle and be available to offer practical support to any member, if needed.

The chaplain will offer closing worship.

The chaplain will follow-up one week after the interview with the applicant/candidate, in order to hear about the person's experience of the interview. (Was it fair? How was the timing? Etc.) This information will be forwarded to the Candidacy Pathway Evaluation Team for the purpose of on-going evaluation of the Candidacy Pathway process.

Notetaking:

Notetaking by the CAT is encouraged. A best practice will be that the member who asks the question, will not to take notes, but maintain eye contact with the applicant/candidate.

A sheet with key words outlining what the interviewers are looking for in the interview will be given to each CAT member.

Conflict of Interest:

Members are encouraged to name potential conflicts of interests, be aware of over-lapping roles, and exercise discretion.

CAT members will not sit in on interviews with family members.

CAT members may sit in, but not participate in the actual interview, if the applicant/candidate is a member of their home congregation.

After the interview:

Evaluation:

After each interview, the applicant/candidate will be asked by the chaplain how they experienced the interview. This information will be shared with the Candidacy Pathway Evaluation Team, who are tasked with evaluating this pilot project.

Reporting:

The applicant/candidate will receive a copy of the final report. The report will outline their strengths and growing edges, along with the committee's recommendation.

The decision will be sent to the Presbytery Education and Students' Committee by the Conference Personnel Minister.

The Conference Personnel Minister will transit forms to Presbytery and for the final interview, to the Conference Executive.

Special Needs:

As an interview team, the CAT will familiarize themselves and learn about particular special needs and accommodation issues prior to interviews.

The CAT will accommodate special needs for interviews, as they are able.

Adapting strategies will be discussed as part of the interview.

Circle of Accompaniment

It is the responsibility of the Presbytery Education and Students' Committee (or its equivalent) to create a Circle of Accompaniment to walk with the applicant. It will be comprised of appointees from the Presbytery Education and Students and people from the appointee's home congregation (or others as agreed to by the Presbytery Education and Students' Committee and the appointee). The Circle will be made up of equal representation from the student's home congregation and Presbytery, though not necessarily Presbyters. (May be former E and S members who no longer come to Presbytery, but enjoyed working with students.)

The purpose of the Circle of Accompaniment is to provide a safe place where applicants can talk freely about their experiences of faith- their struggles, hopes, dreams, challenges. The goal of the Circle is to help students to grow. We are all working together to support the student's growth. The role of the Circle is supportive; there is no need to evaluate; there are no forms to complete. Though you will be asked before each of the applicant's interviews, if there are any concerns you wish to share with the interview team.

One member of the Conference Assessment Team will contact a representative from the Circle before every interview. They will make contact via phone. The Conference Board will be seeking answers to three questions:

1. How has the year gone?
2. What areas of growth have you noted?
3. Are there any concerns/difficulties you are noting?

Students will be informed that this information sharing is taking place for the sake of transparency. A guiding principle is that there will be no surprises to the applicant.

There is no prescribed meeting schedule for the Circle of Accompaniment. At minimum it must meet with the applicant prior to every annual review. It is likely that the Circle will meet with the applicant more frequently in the beginning of the process, offering support and helping prepare the applicant for the first interview with the Conference Assessment Team. . The Circle will continue to have regular contact with students throughout their process, using face to face meetings, conference calls, or Skype.

This is a place where applicants should feel free to share their journey including their questions and doubts. The conversations that are held within the Circle of Accompaniment are to be confidential- that will foster a sense of freedom and safety for not only for the applicant but for all members of the Circle.

The members of the Circle also have a more informal role... support- phone calls to the applicant to see how things are going, emails, cards, prayer!! Tell him/her you are praying for him/her. And celebrate with him/her- after a good interview, have a party, send him/her a card. Celebrate.

Role of the Circle of Accompaniment with CAT Interview

One person from the Circle will accompany the applicant to each of her/his interviews. This person goes as a support person, a silent observer, may be asked some questions by the interview team... (like are we seeing the true applicant as the Circle has experienced him/her?)

Resources for the work of the Circle of Accompaniment

Because this is a new process, there are no handbooks. The Chair of the Presbytery Education and Students' Committee and the Conference Personnel Minister are available to offer support and advice and locate resources that may be needed by the Circle.

An Evaluation tool for use by the Chaplain (Conference Personnel Minister, and offered to the Candidacy Pathway Evaluation Team, in order to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the Candidacy Assessment Team. The evaluation will be prepared by applicants/candidates following each interview.

1. Did you experience the Candidacy Assessment Team to be open?
2. Did you feel challenged?
3. Were there questions you expected, but were not asked?
4. Did the Candidacy Assessment Team get a true picture of you?
5. What was the hardest part of the interview?
6. Did you receive enough pre-interview preparation material to feel ready for the interview?

Are there comments you have for the Candidacy Assessment
